ABSTRACT

Busitema University Arapai Campus (BUAC) is a Public University located in Soroti District in Eastern Uganda 8km from Soroti Town along Soroti - Moroto road. The Faculty of Agriculture and Animal Sciences of the University designed this Field Attachment with the aim of building capacity of First and second Year students pursuing a degree in Animal production and management in practical skills related to their areas of specialization in various fields of agriculture in comparison with knowledge acquired from classroom as well as serving as a partial requirement for the award of a degree in animal production and management. This industrial training report is a description and compilation of activities that were carried out during the industrial training from 20th May 2019 to 26th July 2019.

I carried out at Welthungerhilfe Moroto in Moroto municipality

Relevant activities carried out during the training include; spraying, blood sample collection, Hoof trimming of goats deworming, meat inspection (ante mortem and postmortem) , disease diagnosis and treatments of farm animals and pets.

Project goal is To improve the well-being and food and nutrition security of Agro-pastoralist communities with diverging interest in arid and semi-arid areas of Uganda, Ethiopia and Kenya.

Development objective of the project Is to strengthen the livelihood and reduce vulnerability of pastoralist and agro-pastoral communities in karamoja and Improving access to basic rural production and market infrastructure as well as basic social services

The programme result areas is the following: Sustainable natural resource management, Income generation, Community dialogue and conflict mitigation, Lobby and advocacy, Civil society capacity development and Evidence and learning

Project Coverage: The SRAPLEA project is a global resilience program implemented in eastern Africa- Ethiopia, Kenya, Uganda by Deutsche Welthungerhilfe, Action for Development (ADF), pastoralist's community

Conclusively, the industrial training commenced and ended successfully and I recommend the following to the livestock department; thorough sensitization of the herdsmen about notifiable diseases such as Foot and mouth disease and foot rote should be continuously done

CHAPTER ONE

1.0.0 INTRODUCTION

Industrial training is one of the requirements for the award of Bachelor's degree in Animal Production and management in faculty of agriculture and animal sciences Busitema University. The training was carried out at Welthungerhilfe, SRAPLEA Project a period of ten (10) weeks from 20th May - 26th July 2019. The training was under the supervision of the Technical Field Coordinator.

This industrial training benefits students in a number of ways

- It offers to students the chance to learn by doing in a setting where they are supervised by a workplace professional, and have the opportunity to achieve your own learning goals, without the responsibilities of being a permanent employee.
- An industrial training also offers you the opportunity to work with someone who can become a mentor for you - not only in the internship, but throughout your career.
- Learn about a career field from the inside and decide if this is the right career field for you
- Work alongside a professional in your chosen career area
- Learn new skills and add to your knowledge base while gaining confidence in your abilities
- Opportunity to practice communication skills, teamwork , Meet new people and practice networking skills while establishing a network of professional contacts, mentors, and references
- Gain valuable experience and accomplishments to add to your resume and/or enhance your application to Graduate School
- Create an advantage over other job or graduate school applicants

1.0.1 BACKGROUND

History

Deutsche Welthungerhilfe e. V. – or Welthungerhilfe (German for World Hunger Aid) for short – is a German non-denominational and politically independent non-profit and non-governmental aid agency working in the fields of development cooperation and emergency aid. It was founded in 1962 on the initiative of the then Federal President of Germany, Heinrich Lübke. It formed the German section of the Freedom from Hunger Campaign, which was launched in 1961 by Binay Ranjan Sen, the Director-General of the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO). In 1967 the organisation's name was changed to Deutsche Welthungerhilfe e. V.

Welthungerhilfe campaigns against worldwide hunger and promotes sustainable food and nutrition security by promoting site appropriate farming, establishing access to clean water, sanitation and
